THE LATEST

Steamboat Explosion.

National Associated Press to the Star.

(CHICAGO, July 2.)—News comes from Dallas, Illinois, that Saturday afternoon the steamer Red Wing, en route to St. Louis, burst her steam-pipe. The following were the victims:

Wm. Morgan, second cook, of Rock Island, died Sunday, at Montrose.

Isaac Myers, Port-mouth, Ohio, deck passenger, died here Sunday.

Ed. Wemy, steward, missing; probably drowned.

M. E. Tracy, of Mount Ida, Iowa, badly scalded.

John Pierce, St. Louis, first cook, scalded on the face and hands.

Pete Goll, St. Louis, pastry cook, slightly injured.

John E. Darrow, deck passenger, scalded dangerously.

England Will Not Interfere.

National Associated Press to the Star.

LONDON, July 2.—It is understood that the wise councils of the Marquis of Salisbury, Earl Carnarvon, Mr. Cress and others, have at last triumphed over the party of action. The Sultan has now little chance of material aid from England.

Severe Storm.

National Associated Press to the Star.

FORT WAYNE, IND., July 2.—At 10 o'clock this morning a severe thunder and heavy rain-storm is in progress here and westward.

WASHINGTON

Special to the Star.

DOES THIS INCLUDE OHIO?

WASHINGTON, July 2.—The knowing ones claim that important changes will in a few days be made in the United States offices in Pennsylvania, New York and Massachusetts, and some other States, perhaps in the South and West.

SPECIAL POSTAL AGENTS.

Postmaster General Key has made a reduction of five in the number of special agents. This reduction is required by the state of the appropriation, and it is believed will not injure the public service.

MARSHAL DOUGLAS.

The working of the charges against Franks, the Deputy Marshal in South Carolina, appears to have been manipulated by Hester, the Government detective, more with a view to get Marshal Douglas removed than to punish crime. For some inscrutable reason, this creature, Hester, is largely trusted by the Department of Justice, and appears to be running the investigation of the Marshal's office.

Counting the Cash.

National Associated Press to the Star.

WASHINGTON, July 2.—The counting of cash in the office of the United States Treasurer, made in consequence of the change in the head of the office, was found to be all right in the cash room and the National Bank Redemption Agency as far as the count has proceeded. The reserve fund and bonds yet remain to be counted.

Mr. Gillet.

The new Treasurer, took charge of his office this morning.

Correspondence of the Star.

WASHINGTON, June 30, 1877.

The last will of dissatisfaction that comes up from South Carolina is that the Federal officials appointed down there

ARE NOT BLACK ENOUGH.

Don't smile, dear reader; it's a fact, ridiculous as it may seem. We are to have a delegation of eight colored men, regular black fellows, with black Ex-Congressman Elliott at their head, visit us next week to insist upon the recognition of their race in the distribution of Federal appointments. Their special grievance is, not so much that colored men have been ignored, as that the colored appointees so far have been exclusively mulattoes, which they hold is not a fair recognition, since the bulk of the South Carolina Republicans are black men. This delegation will demand that hereafter half-bred fellows like Fred. Douglass, J. M. Langston, etc., shall take back seats, and when the race is to be recognized it shall be by appointing regular black men, black as black, black as charcoal, black as a black cat, black as the ace of spades! We shall take special pains to see this black delegation when it comes.

THAT IOWA CONVENTION.

The opponents of the President were in rather high feather, yesterday, to-day, over the fact that a resolution to endorse the southern policy of the Administration, introduced into the Iowa State Republican Convention, was laid on the table. They say it shows a serious disaffection in the party that fore-shadows defeat. On the other hand, the President's friends regard this action as more the work of office-holders who are indignant over the late executive order.

Dissatisfaction with the President may work disastrously to the party, or it may not. The Iowa Convention was large, enthusiastic, and on all the recognized principles of the party was very harmonious. The President's friends also point with exultation to the magnificent oration he has just received in New England as a proof that the people endorse his policy whether the leaders do or not. It is rumored that Hon. Geo. W. McCrary, of Iowa, Secretary of War, was so disgusted with the action of the Iowa Convention that he expresses his sentiments in language more forcible than polite. On this, also, the Hon. J. F. Wilson, who was President of the Convention, is a Government Director in the Pacific Railroad, and that his head is to come off for a violation of the executive order.

OH, WHAT STREETS!

I have mentioned heretofore the beauties of the improvements of certain Washington streets. Yesterday a house was being moved across one of these payments, and the rollers stuck in the tar. It happened just across the track of the F street line of horse-cars, and there it stuck all day long, sinking deeper into the tar every hour, impeding travel and creating a first-class nuisance. Passengers were compelled to disembark on one side, wade around to the other and enter other cars. Is there another city in the land so affected? Pity the swindling contractors, who laid the "patent politics" could not be stuck in the tar awhile to broil in the mud, and inhale the delicious odors that arise from the pasty mass.

TELEGRAPHING ON CREDIT.

Another trouble from deficient appropriations. This time the telegraph companies catch it, and as the War Department and the treasury have not been provided with funds for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1878, the companies must either refuse to do the telegraphing, which amounts to a large thing, during the next year, or else do it on credit and wait till some future Congress sees fit to pay them. As telegraphing is mostly "long tick" anyhow, it will be likely to work much hardship in this particular instance.

JUST SO.

As we expected, the corridors of the house of a marked inmate of the long-haired Generals, Colonels, Captains and Judges. Why is this? Oh! you know the President will be at the White House again on Monday, and these men are fooling themselves with the idea that an office awaits them. Perhaps Toledo and Potomac may come to the front in a few days. Here are symptoms of a moving of the waters.

CINCINNATI.

THE OLD WORLD.

National Associated Press to the Star.

FIGHTING ALL ALONG THE LINE.

LONDON, July 2.—A telegram from Pera confirms the report that a great battle occurred between Sisto and Nicopolis. Turkish official accounts represent that the Ottoman troops successfully repulsed the Russians at Sisto, and repulsed them with great slaughter. Every available man was hurried up to resist the Russian advances before they could gain a firm footing on Bulgarian soil. It is reported that a struggle is progressing along the whole line at the Danube. The latest report Saturday states that the result of the battle near Sisto is unknown.

BUCHAREST, July 2.—The Czar has taken up his quarters at a farm house called the Dracul, near Turna Magdolna. The headquarters of Grand Duke Nicholas have been transferred to Sisto.

A RUSSIAN OFFICIAL DISPATCH.

Says that after the Russians were driven from the foremost positions near Zewin, on the 25th inst., they retired at night to their previous lines to escape the Turkish fire. The Russian troops fought with great heroism and suffered considerable losses because the enemy were numerically superior. Six officers were killed and twenty-four wounded, and eight hundred and fifty privates were placed hors de combat.

A TURKISH STATEMENT.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 2.—The Turkish forces at Batum, under command of June 29, as follows: "After the recent engagement, the Russians removed the guns from Sampe Heights and withdrew their left wing to Kassaban. To-day a detached column of the Turkish right wing attacked the Russians and drove them back to the entrance of the Pasha telegraphed, fighting still continued, but Sampe and Kassaban Heights were both in our hands."

LATE WAR BULLETIN.

LONDON, July 2.—A dispatch from Bucharest says that the Czar visited the wounded at Simniza yesterday, after which he crossed the river to Sisto, where he was received with the greatest enthusiasm by the inhabitants, who hailed him as the "Liberator of Bulgaria."

The Rumanian forces are preparing to cross the Danube at a point near Karsat.

A steamer filled with Rumanian soldiers was sunk on Saturday by a Turkish monitor near Rahova.

ATHENS, July 2.—The Greek Government has obtained a war loan of 20,000,000 drachmas.

LONDON, July 2.—A dispatch from Trebizond states that it was reported that the Russians had stormed two redoubts near Kars, and were pursued with great loss.

Telegrams from Turkish sources assert that a great battle was fought about twenty miles south of Sisto on Friday and Saturday, which resulted in the total defeat of the Russians.

The Turkish gunboats have completely destroyed the Russian bridges between Simniza and Sisto.

NEW YORK CITY.

Bad For the Vanderbilt Family.

National Associated Press to the Star.

NEW YORK, July 2.—Oakley S. Barker, a grandson of the late Commodore Vanderbilt, was arraigned at Jefferson Market Police Court on a charge of stealing $300 worth of jewelry from Lizzy Weeks, a woman of doubtful character, at her residence, June 10. The complaint, in an affidavit, states that on June 10 Barker visited her residence, and during her temporary absence from her room he forced open a trunk and abstracted jewelry valued at $300. Complaint discovered the robbery, and notified the police, but they did not succeed in arresting Barker until last evening, when he fully acknowledged his guilt to detectives, and surrendered a pawn ticket for the stolen property. Barker was committed to the Tombs to await an examination.

Such is Life.

NEW YORK, July 2.—John Stone Pallen, formerly a New Orleans sugar merchant, member of the Louisiana Legislature, and Colonel in the Confederate army, who loaned $200,000 to the Confederate army, and was beggared by the result of the war, died in a wretched tenement in Grand street, Brooklyn, and was saved from burial at public expense by the charity of his poor fellow-tenants.

SATURDAY NIGHT'S STORM.

Great Destruction of Property and Severe Loss of Life.

National Associated Press to the Star.

BROOKVILLE, IND., July 2.—The storm Saturday night was very disastrous all through Southern Illinois, Southern Indiana and Southern Ohio, though it seems to have been more terrific in this immediate locality than at any other point. The storm came from the west and the greatest destruction was on a line just south of this place.

Mr. Butler's house and that of Wm. Reuter were blown down. The inmates were slightly injured. A house three miles distant, belonging to Geo. Dressler, was destroyed and three of the family killed outright, and two others fatally injured.

Near Columbus, Indiana, there was great damage, in fact all the southern part of Johnson County suffered severely.

The house of Mr. Brunner, three miles southwest of Franklin, was entirely demolished, and his entire family, five in number, were instantly killed.

A Mr. Armstrong's residence was blown down, and two children killed and several other members of his family severely injured.

At July a new church just completed was torn to pieces.

Farmers lose very heavily. Immense numbers of cattle were killed, and the crops almost totally destroyed. Fences were leveled and barns and out-houses destroyed. An immense amount of timber was blown down, huge trees being twisted off like grass.

Near Mooreville the storm raged with terrible fury. The tenement house of John Armstrong, James Armstrong and Mr. Murrer were blown down, and inmates more or less hurt. Several other tenements were destroyed and Slatt's school-house was blown fifty yards down the hill.

RICHMOND, IND., July 2.—A terrific storm passed over this place Saturday evening, prostrating trees and crops. The storm was the severest north of this place. The crops were blown off to the ground and looked as if a roller had passed over them.

The temperance people were holding a meeting at Hillsboro, about ten miles north of the city, and two men, named W. J. Hyatt and Charles Brown, were on their way to attend it when they were overtaken by the storm. They took refuge in a covered bridge near by, and shortly after the wind struck some large trees near it, blowing one of them over on the bridge, instantly killing Brown, and it is feared fatally injuring Mr. Hyatt. Both are highly respected citizens of this city. The storm was accompanied by severe thunder and lightning.

MURDER AT SEA.

National Associated Press to the Star.

PHILADELPHIA, July 2.—About noon yesterday the schooner A. H. Eaton, forty-six days from Bilbao, Spain, arrived, bringing one of the crew (Stephen Barnett) in irons, he having during the voyage fatally stabbed the first mate, James B. Bones. One of the witnesses describes the occurrence as follows:

"June 3—Stephen Barnett quarreled with the first mate, who went into the cabin, and shortly afterward came on deck with a slung-shot in his hands. Some words passed, when he threatened to hit Barnett with it. Barnett said if the slung-shot was used he would use his knife. The mate then struck him, and attempted to run away, when the second mate (John Sullivan) went in arm with the pump-handle. A pistol shot was also fired, but did not hit any one. Barnett then drew his sheath-knife and stabbed the first mate in the left breast, killing him instantly."

The Toledo Post-office.

National Associated Press to the Star.

TOLEDO, July 2.—Quite a lively little life occurred yesterday morning between Postmaster Dowling, the present incumbent, and Alexander Reed, lately appointed to said office but whose commission has not been received. It appears that Mr. Reed was instructed by telegram from Postmaster General Key to take charge of the office, but Dowling refused to surrender, having had no official notification of his removal. Captain Dowling still holds the office. Newspapers throughout the country ascribed to President Hayes' policy unfavorable comments on civil service reform, as illustrated by the suspension of Captain Dowling and the appointment of Mr. Reed.

LATEST LOCAL.

ONE of the male pupils of St. Augustin school, on Bank street, fell into the privy vault at noon and was suffocated. An inquest will be held.

The Little Greys will leave on Wednesday morning on the C. H. & D. Railroad for Cincinnati, to take part in the grand prize drill, which will come off on the fourth at the Fair Grounds.

The room of a guest at the Indiana House was entered between 4 and 5 o'clock this morning by a sneak-thief, who got away with a silver watch and a few dollars in money. The city is rapidly filling up with these gentry.

IRA Wood, Superintendent of Police, has issued an order that all a gentry found at large from the premises occupied by the owner and accompanied by any person, shall be killed and the owner prosecuted for the violation of the law.

HENRY BEVING, Esq., Execution Deputy in the County Clerk's office, leaves on Wednesday for Niagara Falls and Long Branch on a two-months' leave of absence. His duties have been quite onerous, and his health is affected. He will return with the roses of health blooming on his cheeks.

JENNIE KEAGAN, Julia Feeney and Frank Keagan were arrested Saturday night on a charge of having stolen a pocketbook containing $35 from a butcher named McGee. $25 of the money was found in a house on Webb street, where the above party was also discovered. The case will be investigated in the Police Court next Friday.

ANATOMY both loud and deep are being launched at the head of whoever is responsible for the running of the Fifth and Fourth street line of street cars, as by the withdrawal of most of their cars the indignant prospective passenger is kept waiting in the holding pen for several minutes for one of those to come along. This should not be, and if continued will tell heavily against the interests of the road. It is certainly false economy.

Board of Public Works.

The Board met in regular session, all the members present, and President Bell in the chair.

The Superintendent of the Water-works, Mr. Wm. Kirtan, was instructed to prepare an estimate of the cost of laying water-pipe on Greenwood street, from Lullow avenue to Bishop street.

A communication, calling attention to a nuisance on a lot on Vine street, between Cory and Calhoun streets, was referred to the Committee on Grades and Improvements.

The following pay-roll was ordered paid:

Glenway Avenue	$375.00
Columbia Avenue	250.00
Sewers	21.50
Street Cleaning	1,781.25
Parks	270.00
Yardmen	26.00
Inspectors of streets	240.00
Third street and Eggleston avenue	121.00
Total	$3,250.75
Adjourned.
